

The Sinclair Broadcast Group's decision to air a story about John Kerry for political reasons is not a fair use of the public air waves.

This is an example of corporate media consolidating power and not serving all of the public.

I am opposed of the action Sinclair Broadcast Group is taking whether to show a full hour story or a shorter version is a news style is still an unfair use of the public airwaves for partisan purposes.